DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 3, 5 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Goncalves (4,386,696). Goncalves discloses, in fig. 1, a liquid receptacle system comprising first storage receptacle 9, a receiving receptacle 4 having a surface 5 to cover the first receptacle with a set of complementary interlocking features 11, and the first storage receptacle having two handles 12.

3. Claims 1, 3 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Beneziat et al. (4,410,085). Beneziat discloses, in fig. 1, a liquid receptacle system comprising first storage receptacle 3, a receiving receptacle 1 having a surface 5 to cover the first receptacle with a set of complementary interlocking features 2 (screw thread).

4. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Han (5,934,493). Han discloses, in figs. 1, 2 and 5, a liquid receptacle system comprising first and second storage receptacles 34B and 34C, a receiving receptacle 10 having a surface 24 to cover the receptacles with a set of complementary interlocking features 54, 230.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 7-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Beneziat et al.

In regard to claim 7, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make the volume of the first storage and the dimension of the receiving receptacle as claimed, since it has been held that discovering an optimum value of a result effective variable involves only routine skill in the art. In re Boesch, 617 F. 2d 272, 205 USPQ 215 (CCPA 1989).

In regard to claim 8-10, Beneziat et al. disclose an invention substantially as claimed; therefore, the invention is capable of performing the steps as claimed.
